

Deloris Jenkins Harmon

December 10, 1939 - December 7, 2017

Mrs. Deloris Jenkins Harmon, 77, transitioned Thursday, 12/7/2017 in Columbia, SC.

Deaconess Deloris Jenkins Harmon was born on December 10, 1939 to the late Deacon Eugene and Deaconess Cecinel Jenkins Ashford in Leesville, South Carolina. She departed this earthly life Thursday, December 7, 2017. Deaconess Harmon was a graduated of Booker T. Washington High School with the class of 1958. She was a faithful wife of Deacon John Harmon for fifty-nine years and was a dedicated member of Zion Chapel Baptist Church Number One. she loved her Lord, grandchildren and family above all. Deaconess Harmon was a warm, friendly person who loved to travel and look for deals on any TV Shopping Network. Her daughter Pam considers her more than a mother because you could talk to her about anything like a friend. Her son Reggie says, "she's a real mother who never left her home empty handed". She would even make sure you had change for the work vending machine. Her daughter Veronica, talked to her mother everyday and remembers every piece of clothing and jewelry she received from her mother. Her husband safely trusted in her since age fifteen and attributes all that he is as a man to her. Deacon Harmon states, "I could not have had a better wife". Deaconess Harmon was preceded in death by her parents. However, left to cherish precious memories are her devoted husband of fifty-nine years, Deacon John Harmon; three children, Ms. Veronica Hagans of Columbia,

South Carolina, Mrs. Pamela (Paul) Griffin of Charlotte, North Carolina and John Reginald Harmon of Columbia, South Carolina; nine grandchildren, five great grandchildren; an aunt, Julia Burrell also of Columbia, South Carolina and a host of other loving relatives and friends.
