“ Jordan will forever be remembered. It was a pleasure to have him in my 5th grade homeroom class and watch him grow, mature, and get prepared for middle school. My heart is sad but I know that he is in Heaven and there is no more pain. My prayers are with you Ms. Cooper and Jordan's entire family in your time of grief and sadness.

You have your wings now Mr. Simmons.... keep soaring.

“ My name is Will Green and I was Jordan's barber. Very quiet young man at first but as time progressed, he opened up like a flower especially when we talked about basketball. His mom bought him in for a haircut that Friday before he passed and I asked him was he ready for school and he said yes sir!! I was shocked and then I asked why? He said he was bored. I laughed and as he walked out I told him good luck this year in school because he was eligible to play middle school basketball this year not knowing that would be the last time I was gonna see my little buddy. I'm really gonna miss my friend.
