

Ms. Lucille Marshall Lillard

September 27, 1914 - September 20, 2016

Mrs. Lucille Marshall Lillard was born September 27, 1916 in Batesburg, South Carolina to the late Easter Asbill and Johnny Marshall. She transitioned from her earthly home on September 20, 2016 at Pruitt Health of Columbia. Lucille was educated in the public school system of Saluda County but later moved to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania where she met and married the late Lorenzo Lillard. She was very active in her church as a missionary and humanitarian along side her late husband. Mrs. Lillard returned to South Carolina with the help of her eldest grandson, the late Roosevelt Harrison, Jr. She came to Columbia to care for her then ill daughter, the late Susie Mae Harrison.

“Grandma”, as she was affectionately known by many, enjoyed sewing, crocheting and knitting. She loved everyone and will be missed by many because she never met a stranger. Mrs. Lillard was a great support and was present for all five of her grandchildren’s births. She made annual visits to enjoy them.

Left to cherish precious memories are: her granddaughters, Sarah A. Marshall Boyd, Ethel Mae Harrison (Jerry) and Mary A. Harrison Shell; a grandson, Dr. Preston M. (Stacey) Harrison; eight great grand children; four great great grandchildren; a great great great grandson; a special niece, Margaret A. Jackson; a special nephew, Ned West and a host of other nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends.
